

Questions and reflections about typical daily actions. Students divided in groups perform their tasks.

This is an example of the final product.

Cards, board game, posts, dice created by the students.